Local alternative can help aid arthritis pain

Novi resident Patti Dion has always been interested in alternative, healthy anti-aging regimens. After reading an article on the Sudatonic System, offered at The New You Body Wraps in Utica, she decided to try it out for herself.

The Sudatonic System can help aid arthritis pain.

Dion said after having her first treatment this past October, she instantly felt rejuvenated and energized.

"After the treatment, even my skin was glowing," Dion said.

Far Infrared Heat Therapy allows increased blood circulation to carry greater amounts of nutrients to the skin, thus promoting healthy tone, texture, and mild cleansing of the skin.

Dion suffers from arthritis in her cervical spine and noticed the immediate relief from her stiffness and pain. While the Sudatonic System is designed as a fat slimming treatment, the FAR Infrared heat used in the system has provided clients with immediate relief from arthritis, muscle, and joint pain. Dion lost several pounds during her first treatment.

According to the Journal of the American Medical Association, regular use of a sauna may be as effective as a means of cardiovascular conditioning and burning of calories as regular exercise. The New You Body Wraps offers two body wraps; the Sudatonic heat treatment discussed above and a mineral wrap intended to tighten, tone, remove toxins from the body, and infuse the body with essential minerals. Many women lose up to 25 inches during this wrap.
